EDUC FARMER IS KILLED WHEN GUN DISCHARGED
Fatal Accident Takes Place on Wednesday Morning, John
McColman Being Victim

While taking down a loaded twelve gauge shot gun from the wall of the residence in which he lived, John McColman, a farmer of the Tadoussac neighborhood was instantly killed Wednesday morning when the shot gun discharged while he was in the act of unloading it.

The investigation was carried out by the Alberta provincial police immediately after the death of the farmer. It was explained by the police that the gun was a twelve gauge shot gun and was being used for the purpose of hunting. The gun was found to be in good condition and the cause of the accident was determined to be the carelessness of the victim.

NO TRACE FOUND OF IDENTITY OF WOMAN DROWNED

Although a complete investigation has been conducted, Alberta provincial police officials have failed to locate the identity of the woman who was found dead in the Tadoussac river at Cochrille in the Fort Saskatchewan neighborhood. Although an autopsy has been conducted and a verdict of "drowned" was returned, the identity of the woman has not been established.

The woman was found in the river on Wednesday morning. She was about five feet three inches in height, blonde hair, and was wearing a dark dress. She was found with her arms outstretched and her head tilted back. The only clothing on her was a pair of socks.

Difficulty in establishing the identity of the woman is presented by the fact that no one has reported missing. The discovery of the body therefore adds to the mystery of the case. The police are continuing their investigation and hope to identify the woman soon.

Farmers Decide to Participate in Provincial Elections and Seek Out Candidate

An important decision was made by the members of the Clover Bar U.F.A. on Monday evening when they voted unanimously to participate in the coming provincial election and to endeavor to place a farmer candidate in the field. The committee of three was appointed to make necessary arrangements for the holding of meetings in connection with the election.

The U.F.A. is the rural version of the political party which formed part of the old British Columbia U.F.A. and was merged in the City of Edmonton by the recent amendment to the constitution. The U.F.A. is now being organized in the Clover Bar area and is expected to be a strong force in the coming election.

COMMUNISTS NOT WANTED BY BRITISH LABOR

Delegates Voted Against Their Admission to Union by a Large Majority.

Brighton, June 27.—The British labor party at its conference here today rejected a proposal introduced by the radical wing to allow the communist party to affiliate with the party.

The decision was taken after a long debate. Robert Williams, of the Trades Union Congress, supported the proposal for the admission of the communists on condition that they accepted their duties and responsibilities.

If they did not behave themselves, he said, "then their admission would be a disgrace to the labor party."

The majority of the delegates, however, did not believe in admitting communists to the labor party. They felt that the communists were not interested in the welfare of the workers and were only interested in their own political interests.

SCHOOL BOARDDEBATES BUYING*MARKET BUILDING

Deputy Mayor Considers That Board Should Pay Its Fixed Charges.

Barnes, at a meeting of the school

considers that the school board

The "Advanced" Program.

The American Federation of Labor at its Denver Convention was invited to the itself up to its program of peace, democracy, and operation of railways, and here "with a kick in it." The three go together. They comprise the socialist millennium-maker. About all that remains is to declare for free love and no taxes.

A Fight for the Dardanelles?

A British brigade has been transferred from Italy to the Dardanelles. The British Nationalists have been warned that if they try to take Constantinople they will have to fight Britain. This will come rather as a shock to those who have supposed that the Turk had been thoroughly and satisfactorily whipped. He evidently does not believe it; and even doubts that he has been "kicked out of Europe" permanently. That he will try to take Constantinople, with the assistance of our Soviet allies, is entirely believable. But he rarely misses a chance to fight when one came his way; and the European powers have balked so often when he needed disciplining that he does not take them seriously. Besides, he has not Trotsky for a teacher, and he is not so much with Britain notwithstanding. That Britain should have served notice on the Turk, and also transmitted to him the ultimatum, is in accord with what he expected. Britain has said that it is "through" so far as the Dardanelles is concerned; and Britain's word is good to the Turk as it is to the Kaiser. But there, it may be asked, is the League of Nations? The Dardanelles are supposed to have been internationalized, and put under the special superintendence of the League. But when there is fighting to be done it falls to the lot of "him" as usual. But there, it is to be hoped, if he has to go in, that they will let him make a job of it.

The Chautauqua.

Back in 1788 a veteran of the American revolutionary war organized four Massachusetts farmers and mechanics into what was known as the Milbury Branch, Number One, or the American Lyceum. The object was to bring people together to hear lectures of an educational character. In 1888 there was held on the shores of Lake Chautauqua, in New York State, the first session of an annual gathering known as the Chautauqua. It was the idea of the Lyceum that of drawing people together to listen to experts and authorities lecturing on subjects of public importance.

The Chautauqua example was followed in Canada, and in the United States, by localities throughout the United States. In 1907 it occurred to some one with a talent for organization that the program which were meeting with such success at Lake Chautauqua and elsewhere, could be staged in towns and cities throughout the country generally by arranging circuits and sending speakers, singers and entertainers from place to place.

That, in brief, is the genesis and history of the movement that has culminated in the Chautauqua circuit being now a yearly event in the record of most of the large cities and towns in the United States and Canada. Last year more than five million season tickets were bought in the two countries, two million different people attended the sessions, and counting those who attended more than once, the total attendance was seventy-five million.

By operating on the circuit system, it is possible to keep the admission within the reach of the average purse, which accounts in large measure for the remarkable proportion of the people of the United States who have attended the Chautauqua course begins in Edmonton Friday and runs unintermittently to the west, while the original idea of an educational effort has not been lost sight of, something is provided for all who like the best in music and entertainment.

Liberal Principles and Provincial Politics.

The organization rally of last night in the First Baptist church was a manifestation of the spirit of liberalism of which the city of Edmonton is proud. It is Liberalism; it is Constructive Effort, applied to the betterment of the individual citizen, and the Liberalism of which the city of Edmonton is proud.
